BLACKSTONE

What is said to be one of the finest Cosmopolitan productions of the current season will have its final showing tonight in "The Wild Goose." A superior cast of players is seen in the principal roles. It is a thrilling photoplay, dramatic and appealing, with settings that are massive and beautiful. The hero is an architect whose wife becomes infatuated with another man. How he regains her love makes an interesting story. When a photoplay production is made by Albert Capallini for Cosmopolitan it is a certainty that the finest players obtainable will interpret the various roles and that the stage investure will be al lthat the! discriminating artistic taste could demand. This production was taken from the novel of the same name written by Gouveneur Morris, which Roy Morris is Victim-Robwas recently published in Scribners' magazine, which was read by a good many people who will now be interested in seeing this in photoplay
